

1. Thank you for your patience and continued interest in the iRobot® ConnectR™ Virtual Visiting Robot. iRobot continues to move closer to releasing this exciting new device. At the moment, we are conducting a ConnectR Beta test. As part of our selection process, we would like to ask you to complete this brief online survey. In order to be considered as a trial user for the ConnectR Beta test, you must complete this requalification survey.

Due to the very limited supply of robots, the parameters for the test have changed. We can no longer offer a program wherein participants can purchase their robot for $199. Because we have further need of these ConnectR units for ongoing testing, this test will run for four (4) weeks, at the end of which you will need to promptly return the robot to the iRobot team at our expense. As thanks for your participation and assistance, consumers who qualify and complete all phases of the ConnectR research in a timely manner will be rewarded with 500 “iRobot dollars,” which can be used at the iRobot online store for

4. Please read the following description of the iRobot ConnectR

The iRobot ConnectR is a totally new kind of connection device designed for busy parents and pet lovers who seek greater connection and involvement with their children, family members, and pets. Combining the latest in internet communications and robotic technology, it allows a person to virtually visit with loved ones and friends anytime they wish -- seeing, hearing and interacting with them in their home environment.

This easy-to-use device enables two-way audio and one-way video communication between a caller on a remote PC and people (or pets) near the robot. The PC user can call ConnectR and drive around in any direction to interact with whomever they want, virtually visiting and participating in activities at home.

Up to 10 parties who have been given access to the robot can call those in the home. Should the party near the robot not wish to be disturbed, they can put the robot into "privacy mode," locking out others from access.
